

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

Anaheim, Calif., Aug 08, 2006 /WebDirect/ -- BitForensics today announced the acquisition of KeyPhantom.

“This acquisition will provide BitForensics with the technology it needs to develop its products further.” stated Shane Tolmie, President of BitForensics.

BitForensics has a history of providing computer hardware solutions to selected government and corporate institutions.

The existing KeyPhantom products will be rebranded under the name of “KeyCarbon”.

BitForensics will continue to provide support for all existing KeyPhantom products for the foreseeable future.

About BitForensics

BitForensics is the worldwide leader in hardware devices to create audit trails on a computer. Additional information about BitForensics is available at <http://www.keycarbon.com/>.